India's Population Is At Half-Billion Point

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—One day this month, perhaps in a primitive village lacking either doctor or nurse, an Indian woman will give birth to the country's 500-millionth citizen.

Census officials decline to compute the exact time. They acknowledge that India will pass the half-billion mark in September, but there will be no official recognition of the milestone.

After all, when you have 499,999,999 people, what's one more?

India has more people than the combined total of the United States, Canada, Mexico, Brazil, England, France, West Germany, the Soviet Union, Australia and Japan.

It is surpassed only by Communist China, which has an estimated 750 million people.

The impact of population pressure has a grim, personal meaning here.

If conditions continue as they are, citizen No. 500 million will face dismal prospects for his life on the subcontinent, among them:

One chance in four of learning to read or write.

A life expectancy of 45 years—less if the baby is a girl—compared with 70 in the United States.

An average income of $42 per year, or 13 cents per day. He will spend eight out of every 10 rupees on food alone.

One chance in 140 of ever owning a radio; one chance in 1,000 of owning a telephone; and

Relative Calm Is Returned To Benton Harbor

By The Associated Press
A smattering of racial incidents and demonstrations spotted the Midwest Wednesday night in sharp contrast to the violence-marked nights earlier this week.

In Benton Harbor, Mich., where National Guardsmen were on call under a declared state of emergency, scattered groups of Negroes knotted around a filling station. There was only a minor disturbance, in contrast to three previous nights of violence.

State troopers dispersed the crowd but not before a few rocks and bottles were thrown. No one was hit.

Police released Willard Benfield, 36, a white man who had been arrested and arraigned on an open homicide charge in the fatal shooting of a Negro, Cecil Hunt, 19, during a demonstration.

Benton Harbor Police Lt. Alfred Hauwetter said today Benfield was released because the bullet extracted from the victim did not match Benfield's gun.

In Jackson, Mich., some 110 miles east of Benton Harbor, an integrated back-to-school dance erupted into a fighting, rock-throwing melee.

Thirty officers, armed with riot sticks, waded into the crowd and dispersed the youths. Seven teenagers were jailed. One white youth was hospitalized with a head injury.

In Milwaukee, Wis., after 11 straight nights of picketing to protest Circuit Judge Robert C. Cannon's membership in an all white club, young civil rights workers picked out other targets.

"The issue hasn't changed, just the tactics," said Nate Harwell, and 75 young people quietly chanted as they circled in front of the home of County Judge Christ T. Seraphim.

Lin Demands An Expanded Purge

TOKYO (AP)—Red China's new strong man, Defense Minister Lin Biao, called on the militant young Red Guards Wednesday night to expand the purge now sweeping the Chinese mainland but warned them against coercion and force.

"Don't hit people," Mao Tse-tung's heir apparent told 500,000 young Red Guards and other revolutionary youths in Peking's Square of Heavenly Peace.

Lin, 59, said he spoke for Mao, who rode around the square at his side during the rally. But the 73-year-old chairman of the Communist party did not speak.

The teen-aged Red Guards have been carrying out a nationwide purge of foreign and pre-Communist influences as part of the "cultural revolution" ordered by Mao to strengthen the hold of his ideas on China.

The youthful purge has been marked by violence and the humiliation of its victims.

Lin, according to the New China News Agency, called on the Red Guards to carry out their campaign by reasoning and not by coercion or force.

Lin told the youths to "further develop the cultural revolution—smash four olds (old ideas, old culture, old customs and old habits) and deal a heavy blow to a handful of bourgeois rightists."

But coercion or force, he said, "can only touch their skins" while reasoning can "touch their souls, show their counter-revolutionary features, isolate them to the maximum, discredit them, pull them down and smash them."

Final approval of the highway bill is expected in the Senate today, sending it to the White House. Some congressional sources said they expected President Johnson to sign both bills on Labor Day—next Monday—in the auto capital of Detroit. But the White House has not announced definite weekend travel plans for the President.

The planes from Guam unloaded tons of explosives on two target areas in the buffer strip where North Vietnamese regulars were seen infiltrating into the South.

Other U.S. planes continued the pounding of North Viet Nam.

Air Force pilots reported so many hits on an ammunition depot that it "looked like a fireworks display."

A week-long lull in ground fighting persisted another day in South Viet Nam. The U.S. command reported no significant fighting. South Vietnamese

Johnson Talks On Labor Day At Cobo Hall

DETROIT (AP)—President Johnson will fly to Detroit Monday to speak to a Labor Day rally in Cobo Hall, the Wayne County AFL-CIO president said Wednesday.

The union leader, Al Barbour, said the President will land about 10:30 a.m. at Detroit Metropolitan Airport and go directly to the convention hall to address the 11 a.m. rally.

The President reportedly also intends to fly to Battle Creek, arriving at Kellogg Regional Airport shortly after 1 p.m.

His plans reportedly call for a brief speech on the front lawn of the Battle Creek Health Sanitarium which is celebrating its 100th anniversary.

Gov. George Romney was asked if he could fit the Democratic president's visit into his schedule and replied:

"You bet."

But Barbour declined a request by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., to appear at the Cobo Hall rally.

He said Griffin's request was "a two-bit attempt to get some publicity."

Griffin said he considered the rebuff "a real slap and affront to the office of U.S. senator."

The senator, appointed to his seat last spring by Romney, said if Johnson attended the rally and he was excluded the President's trip should be classed as a "political" visit.

The rally is to be held in honor of the late Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich., whose unexpired term Griffin is filling.

Griffin is seeking election this fall to a full, six-year term against Democratic nominee G. Mennen Williams, former Michigan governor.

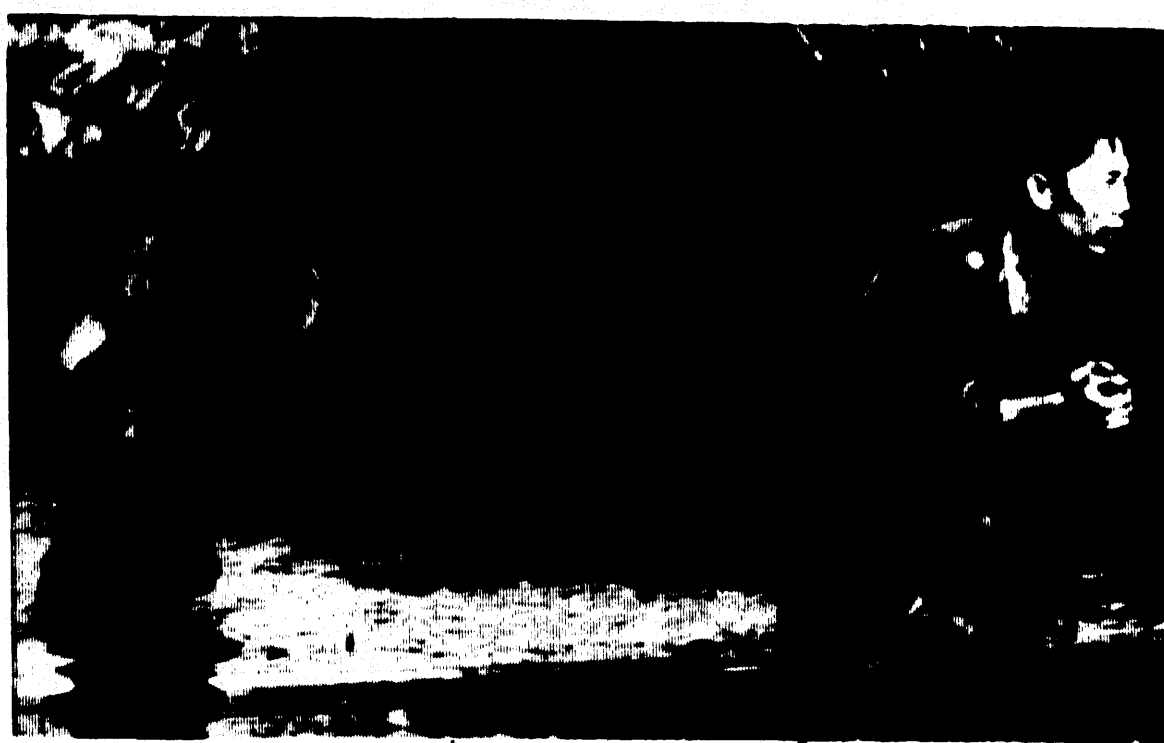

Griffin made public a letter from Barbour saying "we believe it to be appropriate to confine the speakers at the McNamara Labor Day memorial only to those who were close friends and supporters" of McNamara.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The financial problems of civil rights organizations are being compounded by the northward shift of integration campaigns, by Negro riots, by the emergence of black power and by a feeling that federal laws have solved basic racial problems.

A continuing decline in income this year has been reported by the Congress of Racial Equality and other civil rights organizations have said they too were operating in the red.

Contributions have dropped steadily since enactment of the 1964 civil rights law, said Don Smith, a New York leader of CORE, which has been running a $200,000-a-year deficit.

"Ideological issues in the civil rights movement and the way the press has interpreted black power have contributed to this downward trend," Smith said.

British Airliner Crashes In Yugoslavia, 95 Killed

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP)—A British airliner carrying 117 persons on a vacation to Yugoslavia crashed and burned today as it came in for a landing and 95 persons perished.

Officials here said 80 persons died when the plane plunged into a woods shortly after midnight in cloudy weather near the airport of this mountain city.

The other victims died in hospitals or on the way. Officials said that of the 22 survivors, two were in serious condition but the others were out of danger.

Rescue workers said those who survived had nearly all been seated in the back of the plane.

When the first rescuers appeared, about a dozen survivors were stumbling about, weeping in shock and hysteria.

It was the worst air disaster in Yugoslav history.

The four-engine Britannia turboprop crashed shortly after midnight on a flight from Luton Airport, 30 miles north of London.

The plane had just cleared the snow-covered peaks of north Yugoslavia's Julian Alps which rim this prosperous and modern capital of Slovenia. It was coming in for a normal landing when it crashed in a field near the runway.

The passengers were British tourists coming to Yugoslavia for a late summer vacation.

Survivors were rushed to the Ljubljana hospital, which issued an immediate appeal for blood donations.

Authorities in Ljubljana, 80 miles northeast of Trieste, rushed an investigation commission to the crash site.

Ljubljana police said 80 persons were killed in the crash, five others died en route to hospitals, and five others after admission to hospitals.

The plane was flown by Britannia Airways, which operates charter flights for British travel agencies. It was the company's first accident since it was formed five years ago.

The Britannia 102 plunged into a field near Ljubljana's Brnik Airport in the vicinity of the village of Modemnda.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rose hesitantly today as it testing whether the strong advances of the past two days meant the end of the recent decline.

At 11 a.m. the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 2.18 to 790.59.

Key stocks showed changes of mostly fractions to a point. Profits were taken on many glamor stocks as well as blue chips which advanced Wednesday.

There was no immediate word on identities of the dead and the survivors.

Britannia Airways sent an emergency flight from Luton to bring company officials here.

The last major crash involving a British-owned airliner was on March 5 when a British Overseas Airways Corp. Boeing 707 jet crashed near Tokyo with the loss of 124 lives.

The last Britannia to crash, also a charter plane, came down in the mountains near Innsbruck, Austria, in February, 1964, killing 83 persons.

De Gaulle's speech in flag-decked Phnom Penh Stadium was the highlight of his three-day state visit to Cambodia, whose chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has been even more critical of the U.S. role in Viet Nam than the French president.

De Gaulle said for the United States to give up "an expedition in faraway lands from the moment it turned to be without benefit or justification, and to favor instead an international arrangement organizing peace and progress in an important area of the world would in no way finally injure its pride, thwart its ideas or jeopardize its interests."

"If this does not happen," he said, "no mediation will offer any prospect of success, and this is why France, for its part, has never envisioned and does not envision proposing any."

From late 1946 until the defeat of its army at Dien Bien Phu in 1954, France waged a bitter battle to maintain its rule over Indochina, including Cambodia, Laos and all of Viet Nam.

Following the military catastrophe, France agreed to negotiations which led to the Geneva agreements of 1954 giving independence to Cambodia, Laos and divided Viet Nam.

While admitting that "it is unbelievable that the American military display should ever be annihilated in the field," De Gaulle said that only an agreement along the lines of the 1954 Geneva accord could settle the war.

"Exactly as for the agreement of 1954," the French president declared, "the object of this one would be to establish and guarantee the neutrality of the peoples of Indochina and their right of self-determination as these people actually are and leaving to each of them full responsibilities for its own affairs."

"The contracting parties, therefore, would be the real powers in action there and, among the other states, at least the five world powers."

The five world powers as defined in the United Nations charter are France, Britain, the United States, the Soviet Union and China. Since France recognizes Communist China, De Gaulle apparently included that government among the five.

De Gaulle praised Cambodia for maintaining a neutral position in Southeast Asia and told the crowd "that is why your country succeeded in salvaging its body and soul, because it remained master in its own house."

France Certain Solution Lies In Negotiating

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle said today there was no chance of peace negotiations to end the Viet Nam war until the United States agrees to a timetable for the withdrawal of its armed forces.

He told 60,000 cheering Cambodians that, although the time was not yet ripe for a negotiated settlement, "short of the universe rolling toward catastrophe, a political agreement alone could bring back peace."

De Gaulle did not call for withdrawal of American forces as a prelude to negotiations—as North Viet Nam and its Communist supporters have demanded—but said:

"The possibility and even more, the opening of such a vast and difficult negotiation (to end the war) would obviously depend on the decisions and commitments which America would previously have chosen to take and enter into to repatriate its forces at an appropriate and fixed period of time."

No matter how long the war goes on, De Gaulle said, "France holds as certain that it will meet with a military solution."

There was no immediate comment from the State Department in Washington.

De Gaulle conferred for 35 minutes Wednesday with Nguyen Thuan, North Viet Nam's chief representative in Cambodia, and sounded him out on Hanoi's views. There was no indication, however, that the call for American agreement to a withdrawal timetable was based on anything the North Vietnamese told him.

De Gaulle's speech in flag-decked Phnom Penh Stadium was the highlight of his three-day state visit to Cambodia, whose chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has been even more critical of the U.S. role in Viet Nam than the French president.

Nun, Expelled By China, Dies

HONG KONG (AP)—One of the eight Roman Catholic nuns expelled from Red China died today less than 24 hours after she crossed the border into Hong Kong. Death was attributed to heart failure and strain.

She was Sister Eamon, 60, the former Mary O'Sullivan of Cork, Ireland. She collapsed at the border Wednesday and was wheeled across in a baggage cart.

After the Franciscan nuns crossed the border, Sister Eamon and Mother Mary of the Cross, 76, a Canadian, were taken to a hospital. They were reported suffering from fatigue.

Mother Mary, who headed the group from Peking, was reported in satisfactory condition today but had not been told of Sister Eamon's death.

Sister Eamon will be buried in Hong Kong Friday.

The other six nuns spent the night in seclusion at a convent school. Officials said the nuns, who range in age from 60 to 73, needed rest and could not be disturbed.

Forests Return U.P. $149,112

"A harvest of $4,894,831 was realized on the 17 national forests in the Eastern Region in the fiscal year ended June 30, and checks amounting to 25 percent of it—$1,223,707—were sent to the states containing the forests," announces Regional Forester George S. James.

The payments represent 25 percent of the total annual collections derived from the resources and uses of the national forests: sales of timber, special recreation use fees, and special-use permit fees for power lines, minerals, and many other land uses, etc.

Checks ranged from $9,484 for Ohio with the Wayne National Forest, to $238,868 for Pennsylvania with the Allegheny National Forest.

Michigan got a total of $206,080 from its federal forests, including the Hiawatha in the eastern Upper Peninsula, the Ottawa in the western U. P. and the Huron and Manistee downstate.

New Teachers Greeted Here

A reception for new teachers in the Escanaba Area Public Schools was held by the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce at the Chamber building Wednesday morning.

A welcome to the Escanaba area was extended by Walter G. Lewke, Chamber manager. Mrs. Juanita Krohmer informed the educators on the cultural and social aspects of the community and Arthur W. Moberg talked on the economic characteristics of the area.

In addition to the new teachers hosted at the reception, also in attendance were Superintendent of Schools Luther M. Barrett, Business Manager Stephen Baltic, Curriculum Coordinator Vernon Ihlenfeldt and principals of the schools.

The Chamber presented each teacher with a rose and a coffee hour preceded the program. About 50 persons were in attendance.

Marshall B. Dupue Receives Degree

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall B. Dupue and daughter, Denise of Ford River Road left today for East Lansing to attend the graduation of their son, Marshall B., from Michigan State University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology.

He will return with them for a three weeks vacation before entering Wayne State University in Detroit for the fall term to attain his Masters Degree.

TB Assn. Names U.P. Director

Gordon M. Labuhn

Gordon M. Labuhn has been appointed Upper Peninsula director of the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. Labuhn comes to Michigan from California where he served as field consultant for the TB Association of California at Oakland. He will work with regional advisory boards and committees.

From Michigan, Labuhn holds an AB degree from Capital University and a BD degree from Lutheran Theological Seminary, both of Columbus, O. He is married and has three children. In recent years the Upper Peninsula has been served by the Michigan TB and Respiratory Disease Association from the office in Lansing, and two volunteer manned associations located in Marquette and Houghton. It is felt that through the establishment of a regional branch office the Christmas Seal Association can work more effectively with the various health departments, hospitals, governmental units and other community agencies.

Objectives of the regional office include a complete study of TB control in the area and development of long range plans for intensification of control activities; continued assistance in promoting and carrying out TB skin testing chest X-ray surveys; establishment of policies for the annual TB examination of all school personnel; and initiation of activities in chronic respiratory diseases including a survey of diagnostic and treatment facilities, equipping a pulmonary function clinic and conducting RD screening programs. Other programs include breathing exercise, equipment loan closet and educational programs for schools on smoking and health.

The U. P. branch office will be temporarily located at 336 Riverside Drive, Marquette.

Disease, Shoots Take High Toll Seney Goose Hunt Halted

SENEY—Recent action by the Michigan Conservation Commission closed an area around Seney National Wildlife Refuge to the hunting or taking of all geese during the 1966 and 1967 waterfowl hunting seasons.

This action is an effort in co-operation with the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife to save the Seney flock and to build up its numbers to a point where there is a safely huntable surplus.

Many hours of hunting enjoyment have been gained from these birds. Not only have they served as targets, but they have decoyed migrant birds from Canada to hold over in the Seney-Germantown area.

Throughout the spring and summer thousands of tourists from many states visit at Seney Refuge to watch and take pictures of the geese. They have been the main attraction in causing hundreds of families to stop overnight.

Famed Flock
The Seney flock is known across the nation as the first reestablished goose flock on any of the Federal refuge areas. Breeding stock has been taken from Seney to establish flocks in several additional refuge areas.

A captive breeding flock of 332 Canada geese was first introduced at Seney in 1936. The flock reached a peak number of 3,000 twenty years later. Since 1956 the numbers have steadily declined as gunning pressure increased and as a disease factor became more evident.

Concentrated effort is being done to find a solution to the disease problem. The disease, known as Leucocytozoon, is similar to malaria and results in death to the goslings. It is transmitted by a specific race of black fly. In the past, major die-offs have occurred about every 3-4 years with as high as 80 percent of the goslings being lost.

The last significant loss of young geese occurred in 1964, when 527 out of 627 goslings died from Leucocytozoon. These losses, together with other causes of mortality, including hunting, reduced the spring 1965 population to 550 birds.

Increased To 1,000
The flock increased to approximately 1,000 birds before the 1965 hunting season. However, the 1965 hunting kill in the Seney area cut the flock back to 500. Gosling production this year should restore fall numbers to about 1,100.

Significant gosling mortality from Leucocytozoon is predicted to occur again in 1967 or 1968. If it does, protection from local hunting will be the only factor that will save the flock as a continued supply of young birds is needed for recruitment into the breeding population to replace the normal losses among adults.

Refuge Manager Hakala explained that every effort is being made to provide safe nesting sites for the geese to avoid nest destruction by animals such as raccoon and coyote. A number of new nesting islands have been constructed, also several areas have been developed along the shore of the pools to provide better feeding areas for the broods of goslings. This work has been very beneficial to the geese as shown by the recently completed studies of Biologist Dr. Glen A. Sherwood.

As a result of improvement work nesting increased in one of the pools from 6 nests in

THIS CANADA goose with newly hatched young is pictured on the Seney National Wildlife Refuge. The process pictured has been threatened by reduction of the flock by hunting and by a disease which is borne by black flies and which attacks goslings, and the hunting has been closed in the Seney area for two years.

1963 to 21 nests in 1965. Also goslings have shown a faster growth rate in those areas where there is an abundance of food.

Salvation Sought
State and federal waterfowl specialists agree that if answers can be found to the disease problem the ultimate salvation of the flock will be attained. Until that time hunting restrictions along with habitat improvement and animal control will be the only positive preservation factors.

The area closed to goose hunting is all of the area within the following boundary. Starting at the junction of M-28 and the Creighton Truck Trail in Section 36, T46N, R16W; south on the Creighton Truck Trail to its junction with the Highway Truck Trail in Section 17, T44N, R15W; south-easterly on the Highway Truck Trail to its junction with Riverside Truck Trail in Section 33, T43N, R14W; south-easterly on Riverside Truck Trail to River Road in Section 3, T42N, R13W; east on River Road to its junction with US-2 in Section 5, T42N, R13W; easterly on US-2 to its junction with Manistee Lake Road at the NE corner of Section 30, T43N, R11W; northerly on Manistee Lake Road to the Luce County line; northerly on Luce County Road 135 to its junction with Luce County Road 98; west on Luce-98 to its junction with Old Seney Road (Luce-467) and continuation in Schoolcraft County) in Section 19, T45N, R12W; northwesterly on Old Seney Road to M-28 in the village of Seney; west on M-28 to point of beginning.

County Board Appoints Two

The Delta County Board of Supervisors meeting last night in the Delta County Building appointed William Morris of Gladstone to replace the late James T. Jones for the rest of the term on the Delta Building Authority. It also appointed Mrs. Doreen Anderson, Gladstone librarian to replace Mrs. John Norton of Gladstone on the County Library Board.

A deficiency appropriation in the amount of $4,515 was given to Pinecrest Medicare Facility. The Board gave approval to the U. S. Forest Service to construct a dam in Hamilton Creek in Masonville Township.

U.P. Potato Show Set Here For Nov. 2-3

The Agricultural Committee of the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with Michigan State University Extension Service, Joseph Heirman, director, in the sponsoring of the Upper Peninsula Potato Show. Show dates are Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 2-3.

The committee will assist the Upper Peninsula Potato Growers Association with arrangements for the show and with the selling of advertising in the Premium Book. The Senior Citizens Committee of the Chamber has agreed to contact local business firms for line listings in the Show Premium Book at $5 a listing.

Potato growers from the entire Upper Michigan area will exhibit at the show.

Alpena College Gets $960,000 For Dorm Project

WASHINGTON — The Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a $960,000 college housing loan to Alpena Community College for construction of its first dormitory according to Congressman Raymond Cleveland. Some $69,000 of the college's own funds will supplement the federal loan, Cleveland said.

The three-story structure will house 240 men and women students, six student advisors and two supervisors. More than 200 of the College's 549 students have been living in rooming houses in the community since there are no housing facilities on campus.

College officials have projected an enrollment of 790 students in five years and 1,482 in 10 years.

Special Weeks

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney Wednesday proclaimed Sept. 25-Oct. 2 as National Home Week in Michigan. Sept. 19-23 as League of Women Voters Week and October as Cooperative Farm Month.

Mason Rhoads Dies Suddenly

MANISTIQUE — Mason L. Rhoads, 44, 308 Deer St., died suddenly at 6 a.m. today at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital shortly after admission.

He was born in Manistique, Sept. 26, 1919 and was a member of St. Francis de Sales Church, VFW Post 4430, American Legion Post 23 and Elks Lodge 632. He served with the air force in World War II as a staff sergeant in the 610th bomb squadron. He was employed since 1946 at Christy's Bar.

Surviving are one son, Donald, Grand Rapids, and one sister, Mrs. Ferd (Merle) Parent, Detroit.

Friends may call at Messier-Brouillette Funeral Home after 3 p.m. Friday.

Tentative services have been set for Saturday at 10 a.m. in St. Francis de Sales Church. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

The veterans will hold a memorial service at 7 p.m. Friday. Members of the Elks Lodge are asked to meet at the funeral home, 7:45 Friday. Liturgical prayers will be recited at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

German Girls Today Are A 'Pleasure To Behold'

By HUBERT J. ERB
BERLIN (AP) — Brunhilde — that Wagnerian prototype of big, bosomy German womanhood — has shaped up.

Not that all German women ever conformed to the big Wagnerian or plump country Gretchen types. But since World War II, changes in grooming habits, better clothes and a greater emphasis on staying in shape have brought out a lot more of what probably had been there all along.

Says a British girlwatcher who lived in Germany for years: "German girls today have a sexiness — an aura — about them that makes them a pleasure to behold."

Chief characteristics of today's German girl may be described as a naturalness not impaired by too much makeup, a straight carriage that enhances a general long-limbed look, and good figures shown to advantage by a fluid-drive motion allowed by not-too-firm foundation garments.

That the German girl is widely appreciated is indicated by the favor of American GIs, who have married them by the thousands, and by the world's leading fashion houses, who have found in them a new and rich supply of modeling talent.

But a nation's women are not all models, nor movie stars like Elke Sommer.

To get first-hand impressions from more typical German women of the new generation, an expedition was organized along West Berlin's chic Kurfuerstendamm, as good a girl-watching vantage point as there is in Germany, perhaps Europe.

Fashion designer Gloria Pachaly is 5 feet 10 and weighs 138 pounds but is neatly packaged. She has jet black hair, dark brown eyes, was born in 1940 in Germany's Rhineland and came to Berlin "to be in a city of fashion."

She wore a bright red suit she made herself. It set off her rich tan and helped turn heads as she walked along.

"Germans love to eat," she laughed, "and I am no exception. But the trick is fast days — days when you eat little or nothing at all. That and sports keep you fit."

She skis, swims and is a doubles class champion at a tennis club.

THREE WEST BERLINERS reflect the new look in West German women. They are more sophisticated in their dress, coiffure and carriage. Strolling along the Kurfuerstendamm are, from left, Carin Reich, a public relations girl, Gloria Pachaly, a fashion designer and Ingeborg Laggies, a school teacher. (AP Wirephoto)

As a fashion expert in women's knitwear who travels often in Europe on trips for her firm, Gloria was asked if there is much of an American influence on clothes or grooming for German women.

"No," she answered, "it is mostly French. American fashions do not seem as well made. German women still like to buy value when they buy."

German fashions, like the U.S. Army, once had only one size — too big. Miss Pachaly said they are coming along.

Ingeborg Laggies, blonde, brown-eyed, 5 foot 6 and 120 pounds, spends her working day teaching sixth graders. She has a quick, white smile and a spring in her gait.

"Yes," she admitted, "it even helps being attractive in a grade school. The children notice it and I am told by parents that the children even brag about their teacher's appearance at home."

Like most girl Fridays, public relations aide Carin Reich is efficient, businesslike and pays great attention to grooming and stylish clothes.

Berlin-born, 5-foot-5, 118 pounds, green-eyed and with short blonde hair, Carin said a sign of the times is nail polish.

"Until war's end, nail polish was not in wide use. Now everyone uses it on fingernails and toes, and hair is shaved off the legs. It is little things like this that have made a great difference among German women."

The German woman of today, like her American counterpart, spends a good deal of time doing what she does in an attempt to please her man or just men.

One thing German women will not go for, Carin added with a grin, is wearing hair curlers on the street or even around the house — "the men would not stand for it."

In pursuit of style and fashion, will German women ever get to the point where they live on a diet of coffee, salads and cigarettes?

"No," Ingeborg the teacher said firmly but with a twinkle in her eye. "As a German woman you cannot overdo being slender, because what German men like most in a woman is that there is enough to grab hold of."

The GOP Convention

The Democrats held their state convention in Grand Rapids and the Republicans held their state convention in Detroit and now the political football game has two full squads and play has started.

The Democrats avoided platform mention of national issues like inflation and the war in Viet Nam and so did the Republicans. The GOP convention was almost as dull as the Democrats'. It was saved from that fate by Birchite Richard Durant, the foe of Governor Romney who is Republican chairman of Wayne County's 14th Congressional District, and by Don Lobsinger, a 14th District delegate.

Durant, whose forces tried to force into the 1964 GOP platform a statement that there shouldn't be a state income tax without a referendum, tried it again. Lobsinger shouted that Romney was a "fascist dictator" in the effort to insert a "total victory in Viet Nam" plank in the platform. The Detroit Free Press said editorially that Romney should thank both the GOP godfathers for Hyvining up a dull convention. Their antics gave the Governor an opportunity to denounce the party's far right fringe and to demonstrate his strong leadership.

The GOP went home happy with itself and more confident than it has been in years. It had put together an attractive ticket of state candidates.

Part of the excitement in the campaign, of course, is generated by national mention of Governor Romney as a top prospect for Republican nomination for President.

Barry Goldwater, the unsuccessful GOP nominee in 1964, has declared that if President Johnson keeps bumbling he can be beaten in 1968, but that he doubts that Governor Romney will get the nomination to attempt the feat.

"I don't care how big he wins, or loses in Michigan. It's going to be very difficult for people who have worked their hearts out for the party to forget that this man took a powder in 1964—without giving a reason," said Goldwater.

Romney gave the Senator a reason, and he didn't "take a powder" on the Republicans, only on Goldwater. He told the nominee that he'd be with him all the way if he would disavow the people who were saving that Goldwater would be soft on the race issue. Goldwater said that his record on race was clear. Then just say it, said Romney. But Goldwater didn't.

Romney was expressing a strong personal belief in the fellowship of man, but he was also on sound political ground in his position. Detroit's Negroes would have dumped him if he had been a supporter of a Goldwater who was quiet on the race issue. And there are 450,000 Negroes in Detroit. (And only 305,000 people of all colors in the Upper Peninsula.)

Senator Goldwater says that Richard Nixon is the best bet for the Republicans in 1968. And Nixon, who'll be working for Republican candidates in this campaign, says he plans to come to Michigan to campaign but in a limited way. His friends say that he feels it would be awkward for him to make a major effort in Romney's home state in view of their positions as top contenders for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

While Nixon and Romney aren't foes, they're a bit frosty since the 1964 Governors Conference in Cleveland at which Romney said that Nixon had tried to sledge him into a convention fight with Goldwater.

While all this sparring has been going on the Democratic nominees have been busy. Gubernatorial Nominee Zolton Ferency tried out the pilot light on his political furnace by charging that a group of Republicans at a Hawaiian luau in a Romulus Township picnic grove be-smirched his campaign bus.

"We know it was the people from the Republican rally because they used cheap GOP campaign stickers to obliterate my name and the Democratic Party designation," said Zolton.

And his running mate, John B. Bruff, went to Washington to be introduced to reporters by Senator Philip A. Hart, who said "If he is unknown, it's because he's more dedicated to his work than to self-promotion. He's a man whom few know, but a man whom everybody ought to know."

So Bruff resolved to cease being so dedicated, or at least so unknown, and he's hurrying back to Michigan to campaign like sixty.

Extra Obstacle

Zolton Ferency, the Democratic nominee for governor of Michigan, has enough of a problem to defeat George Romney, according to the political pundits. The Muller Township instruction ballot in Schoolcraft county didn't help much. It spelled his name "Ferency."

Questions And Answers

Q—Was John F. Kennedy the first president to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery?

A—No, he was the second. William Howard Taft was previously buried in this national shrine.

Q—Where do the Laplanders live?

A—The approximately 33,000 Laplanders inhabit northern Sweden, Norway, Finland and the Kola Peninsula of Russia. Most Laplanders are nomads who follow herds of reindeer for subsistence.

Q—What is the difference between an arboretum and a nursery?

A—An arboretum is a place for the cultivation, study, and enjoyment of trees; a nursery is a place for raising trees to use elsewhere in landscaping and forestry.

Q—What nations formed the six original members of the European Economic Community (Common Market)?

A—France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

Melvin A. Trams of Escanaba Rte. 1 purchased from Lloyd H. Peltier the Culligan Soft Water Service and plans to construct a modern water conditioning plant at 1008 N. 21st St.

Impressive ground breaking ceremonies are planned for Sept. 8 by the City of Escanaba to mark the start of construction of its $7,000,000 municipal power plant on the north bay shore.

25 Years Ago

Frank Perry of Albion was appointed manager of the Sherman Hotel of Escanaba, operation of which was recently taken over by the American Hotels corporation. Mr. Perry succeeds Rudolph E. Olson, who resigned to accept a position with the Ford Motor company in Detroit.

Ross Gamble, local businessman and a fond lover of horses, has started a horse farm, and will attempt to raise American bred thoroughbred registered saddle horses at his farm on the Old State Road.

ALTHOUGH MANY tourists find it harder to see elk in northern Michigan's Pigeon River Area than they did a couple of years ago, there is no reason to think these big, majestic animals are declining in numbers. Latest word from Conservation Department field men, is that elk appear to be healthy and reproducing normally this summer. (Department of Conservation Photo)

Lapse After Two Years

No Elk Hunting This Year

There will be no hunting season on Michigan elk this fall, but that doesn't mean any letup in the continuing intensive study of the herd by Conservation Department game researchers. The round-the-clock job of watching, tagging, weighing, measuring, and otherwise gathering information about the animals goes right on.

The Legislature in 1964 authorized two years of controlled elk hunting at the Department's discretion, and highly successful seasons were held in 1964 and 1965. However, the hunting authority was not renewed this year, which automatically puts elk back on the fully protected list.

Herd Healthy

Here is a status report on the elk herd, which roams over about 700 square miles in the Pigeon River State Forest east of Vanderbilt in the northern Lower Peninsula, by David H. Jenkins, chief of the Department's research and development division: "Michigan's elk appear to be healthy and reproducing normally this summer. There is no reason to think that their numbers have declined from this time last year. Some people report seeing fewer elk but we have learned that, as with deer, the number seen is not a good measure of the number present. We undoubtedly could have had another limited, carefully controlled hunting season this fall along the same general lines as the past two seasons.

"In some quarters there still seems to be confusion and misunderstanding over the size of the herd. The simple fact is that we can't count elk exactly, any more than we can count any other species of wildlife. Wild critters just won't line up in some convenient place for us to take a census.

Negro Income Rising

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Stokely Carmichael of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee seems to be suggesting, in recent public utterances, that most whites are comparatively well off and nearly all Negroes are poor.

This generalization, if he intends his comment to be that, represents a vast and misleading oversimplification of white-Negro economic status today.

It obscures the fact that in the last two decades Negroes have made substantial—if still greatly insufficient—economic progress. It also conceals the fact that millions of whites are very poor.

Some social analysts consider a $6,000-a-year family income the entry point into the steadily swelling American middle class. By that measure, about a fourth of the nation's 5 million Negro families today fall into the middle-class category.

In 1940 the figure was only 10 per cent. Even as recently as 1950 it was just 16 per cent. There can be no joy over the fact that this clear progress still leaves 75 per cent of Negro families below middle-class levels and 36 per cent of the total below the $3,000 a year family income plane—in absolute poverty.

Yet, though it cannot be a consolation, it is instructive to note that 40 per cent of the country's 45 million white families are likewise below middle-class income levels, and more than 14 per cent of white families below the $3,000 family income mark.

Among whites, the percentages in these categories are much lower, but the numbers are high. Some 3,750,000 Negro families fall short of middle class. So do about 18,250,000 white families. Perhaps 6.5

"In 1964 we put together every scrap of information we had about the herd from every conceivable source and came up with an estimate that it then numbered around 3,000 or 3,500 animals. Frankly, we can't prove that figure. We are pretty sure that there has been no significant decline since.

"One thing we have learned is that the pellet survey method we use to census deer apparently cannot be applied to elk, not at least at the level of effort we can afford to make. We're still trying to refine our methods, but we can't place any confidence in the results to date.

"Pellet surveys at various times have indicated anywhere between 1,000 and 6,000 elk. This spring, we tried something different. We restricted the survey to 178 square miles—about one-quarter of the total elk range—and tried to do a more intensive job. The result indicated a population of 777 animals on those 178 square miles. How accurate that figure is, we can't say. It could be off as much as 300 either way.

"Fear Misunderstanding. "Fortunately, our statistical methods tell us how good our figures are. And 'confidence limits' of 400 to 1,100 simply aren't good enough. We've been reluctant to release these figures to the public for fear that they would be misinterpreted and misunderstood—and they have been. The fact is that they don't mean anything, except that we don't know yet how to count elk accurately by the pellet survey method.

"Elk are a lot different from deer in their habits. They gather in large bands and move rapidly from place to place for no apparent reason. Their distribution pattern changes from year to year, season to season, even week to week. We don't "Hunting almost certainly is a factor, too, in the lower sightings. Hunters are like any other predators. They take the animals that are easiest to get. In the case of elk, the easiest to get are the dumb ones that hang out near roads. Those are the same elk that most people saw, and there aren't nearly as many of them around after two seasons.

"We can overcome this problem, to a degree anyway, by planting summer elk foods in locations where the feeding animals will be visible from roads, and we're doing that. The public, of course, will have to recognize that elk are best seen in the very early morning and late evening and that a certain amount of quiet and caution must be exercised to avoid spooking the animals. The fellow who cruises the roads at 30 miles per hour at high noon isn't going to see elk unless he's awfully lucky.

Range Is Crucial "Our management plans for elk must be based on what is best for the elk, and that means primary concern for the condition of their range and food supply. Deteriorating range created the need to hunt elk in the first place, and it will require hunting seasons in the future to control this problem.

"Elk are big animals with big appetites. Food they can't reach they can break down and what they can't break down they can push over and, failing all else, they can strip the bark off the trees. A large elk herd is incompatible with even a small deer herd competing for food on the same range.

"Right now we can say that, based on its physical condition, age and sex composition and other factors, the Michigan elk herd is in comparable condition with established herds in the West. We should, however, be greatly concerned over the impact of cars, cabins, snowmobiles, and other intrusions of civilization in the elk country. Over-development of this type probably is the greatest long-term threat to the herd's continued prosperity."

The Doctor Says: Guilt Ought To Be Shared By Parents

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandel

Q—I have a large varicose ulcer on my leg. What treatment do you recommend?

A—Varicose ulcers are the result of neglecting varicose veins. In most victims treatment is useless unless the underlying cause is removed. When this is done the ulcers will heal spontaneously if given a chance. Keep them clean and cover with compresses moistened with sterile salt solution of the same salinity as tears.

A Polish doctor has speeded the healing of these ulcers by fastening a plastic cage over the ulcer and reducing the air pressure in the cage with a suction pump. If the ulcer is large it must be covered with a skin graft as soon as the underlying base is free of infection. Water pills are also of value in reducing the waterlogging of the affected leg.

Q—My doctor says I have tonsil tags. Are they serious? Could they ever disappear completely?

A—Sometimes a small remnant of a tonsil remains after the tonsils are removed. Such tags may even grow to be almost as large as the original tonsils but they are not likely to become cancerous or have any other serious consequences except that sometimes they may get so big that they, too, must be removed. They do not disappear spontaneously.

Q—A friend's doctor told her that her tonsils would disappear after the age of 25 or 30. Is this true?

A—No, but the tonsils are very inconspicuous when they have not become enlarged through repeated infections of the throat.

Q—Every once in a while I cough up little cheesy balls from my tonsils. What causes them?

A—Normal tonsils often have deep crypts. Particles of food may lodge in them. This with an accumulation of dead cells cast off from the lining of the crypts will produce these small masses. They can often be expressed from the tonsils with a tongue blade.

Q—I am 42 years old. My doctor says I have Burger's disease. What is it and what can I do to relieve the numbness?

A—Burger's disease is an inflammation of the arteries in the extremities that interferes with the circulation of the involved parts. It is essential to stop smoking (practically all victims of this disease are heavy smokers). Drugs to help dilate the arteries such as vitamin E, niacin, panavine and hexamethonium are usually given. When nothing else works it may be necessary to cut certain nerves of the sympathetic nervous system.

Dear Ann Landers: A three-year-old boy rode his tricycle down a driveway into the street and was crushed to death under the wheels of my brother's truck.

The parents of the child were in the yard at the time. They saw the boy ride into the street many times but did nothing to stop him. Those parents are as guilty as my brother yet the driver is the one who must carry the burden. Although exonerated of any negligence or violation of the law, my brother became despondent. His health broke and he committed suicide.

I am a mother, too, and I know how the parents of that small child must feel, but why don't they realize it is their responsibility to keep an eye on children who are too young to exercise mature judgment?

Traffic has only one place to run—in the street. Children have many places to play—their own yards, the city parks, playgrounds. No driver wants to hurt a child. Truck-drivers are the most cautious of all. But a child can run faster than a truck can stop. Please Ann, print my letter and add a plea of your own to parents of young children to watch them and teach them to stay out of the streets. — BROKEN HEARTED SISTER

Dear Sister: I can add nothing to your powerful and eloquent letter. Thank you for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: You said in your column a few weeks ago that you are sick of complaints about teen-agers' hair and I don't blame you. But I hope you will print just one more.

Our 16-year-old son, Keith, plays the drums in a musical group. My husband and I both approve since we can think of worse things for a teenager to do with his time. Keith says he needs long hair for the act. We don't like it but we've gone along.

Last week I noticed that the boy had been wiping my hair curlers. Also the can of hairspray I had bought a few days ago is half empty. I told my husband about it and he also thought it was funny. I am not amused.

Should I ignore the whole thing and hope it will pass or what? —PERPLEXED

Dear Per: For now say nothing. He'll probably get tired of it when the novelty wears off. But please write to me in six months. If Keith is still fooling around with the curlers and hair-spray, I'll suggest some action.

Dear Ann Landers: Will you please tell cheating husbands to keep their mouths shut? Some women insist that if their husbands were unfaithful they would want to know about it. They are either kidding themselves or they are masochists.

The husband who confesses all is trying to ease his guilty conscience at the expense of his wife's peace of mind. It may make HIM feel better but it won't do much for her—except make her heartless, depressed and suspicious forever after. I speak from experience because I've BEEN THERE.

Dear Ann: I agree a contrite husband should keep his mouth shut and dedicate himself to better conduct in the future.

Does someone you love drink too much? What can you do about it? For some forthright answers, get the booklet "Alcoholism—Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

No Specific Drug To Combat Encephalitis

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — By the dozens and hundreds, people are falling ill in Texas and the Far East from sudden explosions of so-called "sleeping sickness," and for many the sleep is forever.

This "sleeping sickness" is, more precisely, known as encephalitis. The cause is a virus which can produce inflammation and destructive changes in the brain and spinal cord — or no real symptoms at all.

Epidemics, such as occurring now, are unusual in the United States.

The virus striking in Texas is a form known as St. Louis encephalitis, where it was first observed some years ago. The virus responsible in Korea and Japan is, presumably, a close relative known as Japanese B encephalitis. Two other related forms that sometimes also strike individuals or in epidemic proportions are Eastern equine and Western equine encephalitis.

There are mysteries still about these viruses.

Birds are apparently the main reservoir of St. Louis encephalitis virus. Mosquitoes of the Culex family are the carriers, transferring the virus from infected birds to humans, and to other animals. Some species of birds die from the virus, while others are not sickened at all, medical texts explain.

Most humans infected by mosquito bites never show any signs of illness, or have generalized symptoms, including fever. But once in a while, encephalitis bursts forth in epidemic form. Health officials in Texas blame the current outbreak partly upon heavy recent rains that favored the breeding of mosquitoes, and in a counterattack have been spraying an insecticide from airplanes and trucks.

Past epidemics of encephalitis in this country have taken up to a score of lives at a time. Despite the name "equine" for two forms of the virus, humans do not contract the disease from infected horses, says Today's Health Guide, published by the American Medical Association. Vaccines are available to protect horses and mules, but similar vaccines are not generally recommended for humans, it adds.

Mild infections, or those that go unnoticed, presumably give people immunity against the virus. Epidemics may occur because people have not been exposed much in the past, and the virus may hit harder at times, says one physician familiar with the disease. The virus infection can bring on high fever, convulsions and generalized rigidity, headaches, muscle pains and stomach upsets, and coma and delirium in more severe stages. The Eastern equine form of disease is usually more severe and fulminating or rapid than other varieties, says the Merck Manual, an authoritative medical book for physicians.

And as yet, it adds, there is no specific drug to help victims.

Ten Police Face Perjury Trials

DETROIT (AP)—Perjury trials have been ordered for 10 Detroit police officers accused of lying to the Wayne County one-man grand jury when they denied accepting gifts from bar owners.

Wayne County Circuit Judge George E. Bowles dismissed legal attacks on the constitutionality of the Edward S. Piggins grand jury in handing down the trial order Wednesday.

A new grand juror will be appointed after a meeting today of the 24-judge Circuit Court. Perjury charges were dismissed against another officer, Patrolman Kenneth Frayer, and Police Commissioner Ray Girardin ordered him to report to work this morning.

Kavanagh Reply To Criticism Of Free Lawyers

The Michigan constitution provides for counsel for indigent cases and the Supreme Court "has little choice" in the matter, Chief Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh said on a visit here Wednesday. With him on the re-election campaign visit was Otis M. Smith, also a Supreme Court Justice.

Kavanagh's remarks were made in reference to a Detroit Free Press story which cited that the courts feared high costs from the implementation last week in the Supreme Court session.

Kavanagh said the court had studied effects in other states and had taken the action after study. The rule was promulgated three months ago with a request for comments prior to Sept. 1 implementation. Many comments were received but none with reference to the financial aspect, he indicated.

Three months ago when action was taken to provide counsel and free transcript of testimony, the Wayne board of supervisors asked for $4.9 million. A check in Illinois showed costs were $200,000 a year, he said. In the first year in Michigan, court administration office costs were $44,00, he said.

A policy of regular meetings with trial judges has been established and 10 of these regional meetings have been held. Development of a united administration of justice in the state is a goal and should be in all the states, he said.

Smith noted the praise the Michigan Supreme Court has received for its "tackling of problems tough to handle" from persons such as Earl Warren of the U.S. Supreme Court, Dean Prosser in California (law school) and Dean Green in Texas.

Indiana Dunes Bill Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A prediction that some controversy may develop when a bill to establish the proposed Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore reaches the House floor came from Rep. Wayne Aspinall, D-Colo.

Aspinall told the House Rules Committee that the Interior Committee which he heads has fashioned a "good bill" but nevertheless amendments to it should be offered on the House floor.

The bill would authorize acquisition of land along the south shore of Lake Michigan to establish the lakeshore.

Aspinall led a group of House members who urged the Rules Committee to grant two hours of debate on the bill before a floor vote is taken.

The committee, headed by chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., came to no decision because Rep. Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., could not be present and has requested to be heard next week.

Halleck has opposed establishment of the federal park, most of which would be located in his congressional district.

In his testimony, Aspinall said that in addition to preserving the natural wonders of the dunes — which date back to the ice age — the lakeshore should provide recreational facilities for 9.5 million people within a 100-mile area.

Rep. J. Edward Roush, D-Ind., the bill's sponsor, indicated a drive will be made on the floor to restore to the bill a provision to include in the proposed park limits at least a portion of the 750-acre Inland Steel Co. tract.

Briggs President

WARREN (AP)—S.A. Spencer, 35, has been named president and chief executive officer of Briggs Manufacturing Co., maker of plumbing and heating equipment. Spencer was a partner in McKinsey & Co., management consultants, before joining Briggs.

St. Cecilia Circle Elects

St. Cecilia Circle met Tuesday evening at the Roland Hoholik cabin on Dodge Lake. A pot luck supper was served. New officers elected are Mrs. Lawrence Savoie, leader and Mrs. George Tiglas, secretary-treasurer. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Hoholik, Mrs. John Borko and Mrs. Susie Borko. In cards, awards were won by Mrs. Leon Duquette, Mrs. Della McPhail and Mrs. Francis Barr. Guests were Mrs. Ellsworth Turan and Mrs. Barr.

Former Resident, Mrs. Pray Dies

Mrs. Jennie Pray, wife of William W. Pray of 619 Webster Ave., Traverse City, died Aug. 30 at Traverse City after several years illness.

She is survived by her husband, and two daughters, Gaietta and Dorothy. Mr. Pray was mill superintendent at Brown Lumber Co. for about eight years, moving back to Traverse City about 40 years ago.

Briefly Told

Presbyterian Guild has scheduled a meeting Saturday, Sept. 2, at 8:30 p. m. Hostesses will be Mrs. Frank Arrowood, and Mrs. John Hendrickson. Pot luck supper will be served.

Specials Enliven Fare Of Season

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of the biggest agents in show business, says: "They're playing it safe this season."

And in those few words he summed up Hollywood's consensus on the caliber of the regularly scheduled television series turned out in the studios here. They are an assortment of comedy, adventure, Westerns and variety shows cut, with few exceptions, from patterns which have proved popular.

The studio product, made with professional skill and approximately the same amount of inspiration invested by commercial bakers in today's batch of loaves, will provide the basic television fare in the season that starts Tuesday.

And if that were all, it would be easy to predict that the shows, as a whole, would be no more impressive or stimulating than those of last season, which will certainly not go into the books as one of television's golden years.

Fortunately, the three major networks are in competition to leaven their schedules — and perhaps coincidentally polish their images — with an especially large number of special programs.

ABC, for instance, is engaged in the production of an impressive series that will amount to weekly specials under the title of "Stage '67." These range from original dramas and musical comedies to documentaries. Ingrid Bergman will appear in a one-character drama, "The Human Voice," and Truman Capote will narrate an adaptation of his "Christmas Memory," among other off-beat entries.

There will be productions of such plays as Arthur Miller's "The Crucible," Tennessee Williams' "Streetcar Named Desire" and Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirits," to mention a few on all networks.

There will be special reruns of recent hit motion pictures, including "The Music Man" and "Bridge on the River Kwai." There will be a 90-minute production of the Lerner-Lowe musical, "Brigadoon," — and many more.

Legion Elects John E. Davis

WASHINGTON (AP)—Handsome, grey-haired John E. Davis, former Republican governor of North Dakota, was unanimously elected national commander of the American Legion today.

He succeeds L. Eldon James of Hampton, Va.

In a rather rare display of unanimity, other candidates withdrew before the roll-call. The rules of the 48th annual convention were suspended and Davis was elected by acclamation, amid cheers band music and the shriek of bagpipes.

The other candidates were William Eugene Galbraith, Denver, Neb., and Bernard F. Gratton, Emmett, Idaho.

Davis, 53, 3rd grad 158

Hurricane Faith Heads Out To Open Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Faith sped away from the U.S. mainland today on a path that would take her 110-mile winds into colder climes in the Atlantic — possibly to her death.

As she thrashed forward at 20 miles an hour, the Miami Weather Bureau discontinued gale warnings from the Virginia Capes to Cape Lookout, N.C. Mariners were warned to remain in port, however.

The 47,000 residents of scenic Bermuda were warned to prepare for gale-force winds in squalls during the day, although the center of the hurricane was not expected to strike the island.

Barring a dramatic shift to a westerly course, the Weather Bureau said, the possibility of Hurricane Faith seriously affecting the East Coast of the United States is now remote.

Early today, Air Force reconnaissance and ship reports located the center of the hurricane about 320 miles east-southeast of Cape Hatteras and 350 miles west-northwest of Bermuda.

Supervisors Get Report

County Planners See Gains

The industrial picture of Delta County is much brighter today than it has been for many years, the Delta County Planning Committee reported Wednesday night to the Delta County Board of Supervisors, meeting in the Delta County Building.

The report was one of a series of continuing statements on the economy and culture of the county by the planning committee in cooperation with the Overall Economic Development Plan for the county.

Members of the committee, some of them from the Board of Supervisors and some lay citizens are: Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe; Henry Vitzke, Rapid River; Maurice LaVigne, Ensign; Philip Miron and Dr. William Meyers, Ford River; Gladstone Mayor Frank Stupak, Arne Anderson and Michael G. LaPine of Gladstone; Clarence Dietrich, Bark River; James Dotsch, Garden; Louis Dufour, Wells.

Economy Improved

The progress report of the Planning Committee for August said of industrial growth: "There are many strong indications that the economic base of the Delta County area will vastly improve in the very near future. A number of sound industrial improvements were made in the past two years."

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. completed supplying natural gas to Escanaba and Gladstone and the service also is available in adjoining rural areas. Marble Arms Co. has relocated in Gladstone Industrial Park. Eaton Yale & Towne, Inc., Dynamic Division purchased Marble Electric and has built a plant addition and new employees are being hired.

"Goodman Division of Calumet & Hecla, Inc., located their main offices in Escanaba, bringing their expert personnel in wood product manufacturing to the Delta County Area."

"The Delta County Small Business Development Center received loan requests for 15 applicants, four have received their money and the rest are being processed."

"Bay de Noc Beef Producers Association completed their livestock sale yard."

"Gladstone is making major improvements in its industrial park and the City of Gladstone is retaining professional planners to prepare a master plan for the city."

Of transportation the report said "The county is gradually changing from an extractive industry and consuming region, with the primary flow of traffic formerly moving into the area now moving towards a more balanced two-way flow. This is result of development of new derivative and distributive industries."

"Development of feeder cattle ranches and the movement of cattle, hay, potatoes and forest products has tended to encourage and increase the use of private and contract motor carriers. Commodity hauling such as paper and related products between the two peninsulas has resulted in a competitive problem for the commercial common carriers, and though unwelcome has not deterred them from extending and expanding their services."

Need More Roads

"The increased shipping by motor carriers and the definite upward swing of the U. P. economy has created a demand for more interior roads and better east-west and north-south highways. The Michigan Highway Department is working with local county road commissions and planning groups to meet this demand. The U. S. Forest Service is also engaged in road planning and building. "Air Service has remained unchanged since the first OEDP report. Rail service has shown improvement in some areas, but there has also been some deterioration, creating a competitive disadvantage to some shippers. Railroad car supply has been inadequate, specifically boxcars for paper shipping, gondolas for pulp-much opportunity for improvement."

The report noted that farming is going through a very rapid change. "Farms are still decreasing in numbers but increasing in size to warrant mechanization. We still have some 100,000 acres not developed but classified as agricultural land. No new acreage has been cleared in a decade. Large acreage has been in the soil bank the past 10-15 years."

"Predictions: Dairy farms must have 40 cows or more. Potato farms will increase in size and completely mechanized. Irrigation will become common and we'll see some 100 acre growers. Beef cattle will increase. We feel certain we can grow cauliflower, broccoli, Brussel sprouts and carrots. Wood products will still play an important part in the agricultural economy."

"More local processing plants are needed to increase the potential of many agricultural products."

Of education the report said "much work has been done and is being done to improve education. Outstanding have been expanded curriculum offerings of Bay de Noc Community College and consolidation of four small districts into the East

Medical

Of medical needs the OEDP report says "because of the developing industries in the area, a major need in Delta County is the development of a modern medical clinic. Presently, any individual with a need for major medical care must travel 150 to 200 miles. Such a clinic should not bring in just more doctors, but rather medical skills and facilities presently not available in the area. Presently there is a start of planning for such a project."

wood and large flatcars for Harnischfeger cranes.

Farming Changing

"Studies are underway for increased harbor and lake shipping facilities. The overall transportation outlook is encouraging, but there remains

Mrs. DeSormeau Dies On Tuesday

Mrs. Mariann DeSormeau, the former Mariann Saindon of Schaffer died Tuesday in Janesville, Wis. She had been residing with her son Philip.

Mrs. DeSormeau was born July 26, 1884 in St. Jerome, Canada and she had resided in Schaffer for many years.

Surviving are one son, Philip; two daughters, Mrs. Henry (Hazel) DeDecker of Beloit and Mrs. William (Doris) Murphy of Milwaukee; one brother, Arthur Saindon of Escanaba.

Funeral services are being held in Janesville and burial will take place in the family lot in the Schaffer Cemetery on Friday.

Sand Cars Derailed

MIDLAND (AP)—Sixteen sand-filled cars of a 55-car Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad freight were derailed Wednesday night near Averill, about five miles northwest of here.

C&O officials said the train was bound from Ludington to Saginaw. No injuries were reported and the cause of the derailment was unknown.

Delta County School District. The committee dealing with education sincerely believes that each enlarged district will automatically offer improved education."

Market Is Poor Outlook Prophet

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—As Americans head into their last long holiday weekend of summer and wonder what fall will hold for them, many are worrying lest the big stock market plunge means that another recession is on the way. But a big drop in stock prices hasn't always foreshadowed a decline in business by any means. Stock traders aren't that all-knowing.

The market got its hold on the public psychology because the big crash of 1929 was followed by the depression of the 1930s. The public blamed all its ills of the 30s on what happened in Wall Street at the end of the 20s.

Since World War II, however, a stock market break, as often as not, hasn't fazed the economy in the least. At the end of the war, stock traders began looking for signs of a recession. And stock prices fell 20 per cent between May and November 1946. But business ignored the goings-on in the market and continued a steady rise for 2 1/2 more years.

The market scored a little better as a soothsayer in the summer of 1948. Stock prices dropped 10 per cent, and the first postwar recession stretched from late 1948 till October 1949. But it was a mild downturn and not the postwar depression many stock traders had predicted.

The Korean War started in mid-1950 and stock prices beat a retreat. But business boomed till the recession of 1953-54. Stocks had recovered their daring before that, and continued upward even as business faltered.

Briefly Told

The Escanaba Civil Service Commission will meet in the City Hall at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday for reports on examinations and appointments, including water plant operator and account clerk.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to Lucille E. Ulrich, 618 S. 17th St., for failing to stop and identify.

The North Star Lodge regular meeting will be held at the Odd Fellows Hall at 7:30 tonight.

The whereabouts of Walter Stankiewicz, about 70 years old, is being sought in this area by Escanaba police, who said they have a message for him. Persons who know of his whereabouts are requested to contact the police.

President Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955 brought a sharp break in stock prices, but business ignored it and rose for two more years. The economy prospered even while stock prices were falling 12 per cent between July 1958 and February 1957.

Another recession hit in August 1967 and stretched until early in 1968. But stock prices rose 30 per cent between February 1967 and July 1968. They then turned down by 11 per cent until October 1969. The last recession had already started and stretched into February 1961, but stock prices were rising during most of its duration.

Will this year's stock market plunge be as poor a forecast of the economy's future, as the 27 per cent plunge in 1962 in stock prices? The economy has expanded fairly steadily since early 1961. It ignored the 1962 stock market.

After Labor Day, things could look a lot less worrisome. It's happened before, it could happen again.

Loss, $50,000

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Fire Tuesday destroyed more than $50,000 worth of corrugated moldings used for silo construction and the barn in which they were being stored. The blaze razed the barn owned by Ralph Baird on the outskirts of Charlotte and about 1,600 moldings owned by the C & B Silo Co. of Charlotte. City firemen, who fought the flames for more than two hours, said cause of the blaze was not immediately determined. No one was injured.

Freedom Is For The Middle-Aged

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Freedom isn't just for the birds. It's for middle-aged people, too.

In some ways there is no freedom quite so enjoyable as the freedom middle age brings — if one is simply wise enough to realize it.

For example:

In middle age you are free to tell the truth, because you probably wear glasses and therefore are less likely to get slammed in the nose.

Nobody calls you a sissy if you carry an umbrella on a cloudy day. At your time of life it's the proper thing to do.

You are free to leave a cocktail party before midnight. Everyone realizes that you simply must get your sleep.

Avoid Head Colds

It is no longer necessary for a husband to greet his wife's friends with a real kiss, usually more of a chore than a thrill anyway. A quick peck on their faded cheeks will satisfy them just as well — and think of the head colds you avoid!

You are free to read naughty books without fear of being corrupted. History records few cases of a man over 40 being led astray by a bad book.

The range of interesting diseases you can acquire widens appreciably. Compared to them, the ailments of youth seem mauldin or picaresque. Who wouldn't rather listen to a mature man discuss his gout than a callow youth rant against his acne?

You feel free to give advice. Giving good advice is unquestionably one of the greatest human pleasures, and it is widely accepted as an inalienable right of the middle-aged and the elderly. It is unimportant whether the advice is followed. In fact, it is better if your advice is disregarded. Then, when disaster inevitably ensues, you are free to indulge in another satisfying middle-age luxury, saying: "Well, I told you so!"

More Tolerant

After 40 or 50, you are at liberty to become more tolerant. Hatred, bigotry and prejudice tend to elevate the blood pressure, and you can discard them as health dangers. Why burst an artery hating an enemy? That would only give him satisfaction. It is far, far better to forgive him — and let him bust a blood vessel in frustration.

You are free now, because of a higher income, to eat and drink all the things that would probably have killed you if you could have afforded them in your youth. But you probably don't want them anymore.

Middle age is the time to be bold and unconventional and experimental and a breaker of patterns. For then, no matter how big a fool you make of yourself, a charitable world will probably only say in judgment: "Poor fellow, and at his age — he must be getting senile."

L'Anse Cyclist, Windpipe Severed, Dies Wednesday

L'ANSE (AP) — Motorcycleist Gerald Archambeau, 16, of L'Anse, his windpipe severed by a cable stretched across a wilderness trail on which he was riding, died Wednesday. James Stiglich, also 16 and of L'Anse, was riding with young Archambeau at dusk Monday on the Baraga (County) trail in L'Anse Township and was thrown from his motorcycle, but not injured.

Authorities said youths camping nearby had stretched the cable to prevent others intruding on their campsite.

Ambassadors For Christ Return To Escanaba Area

By special request, the Ambassadors For Christ Gospel Team from Chicago will be returning to the Escanaba area for another series of special meetings over the Labor Day week-end.

First on their schedule is a Saturday, Sept. 3 film-spiration at the Escanaba High School, S. 23rd and 6 Ave., at 7:30 p.m. when the new color teenage film "Without Onion" will be shown. It is a true picture from the Main Street of teen-age America. In addition to the film there will be a thirty minute musical program by members of the team.

Following this, the group moves to Arbor's, S. 23rd and 1st Ave., for a Snackspiration where between chatting and chewing there will be singing and singing interspersed with special interviews and other features.

The Bay de Noc Christian Fellowship is sponsoring these Saturday night activities.

The Sunday night meetings center around the Bark River Bible Church where Rev. Walter Nordin is pastor.

At 7 p.m. members present a musical that includes trombonist Larry Shostrom, pianist, Ruby McMahan, marimbist, Faye Oesmann and soloist, Sarah Leach with her guitar, Emcee, Bill Mills, plus a vocal duo.

The final service of this series is a filmarama, "Highest Mountain," set for 8:45 p.m. A young college student's struggle with his own misdirected motives, set against a background of scenic California mountain terrain, provides the central interest.

Admission is free to all of these activities and everyone is welcome.

Dear Heloise: A good way to give liquid medicine to people of all ages, especially small children, is to put it in a small one-ounce glass.

This saves trying to pour out a teaspoonful of medicine, and giving it to a child (especially at night) without spilling it.

All you have to do is pour the medicine into a teaspoon (holding it over the glass in case it spills), dump it into the glass, and give it to the patient.

Dear Heloise: I save my empty postage stamps books.

When I need to mail coins, I use adhesive-backed tape to tape them between the stiff back and front of the stamp book.

Darlene Wuori Bride Of Allen F. Salmi

Darlene Marie Wuori of Rte. 1, Baraga became the bride of Allen Frederick Salmi of Rock during a ceremony performed Saturday, Aug. 27 at the Faith Lutheran Church in Pelkie, Mich.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 7:30 in the evening was the Rev. Edward Groop.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Urho T. Wuori of Rte. 1, Baraga and Mr. and Mrs. Waino A. Salmi of Rock.

The bride wore a floor length gown of peau de soie fashioned with a fitted bodice and long tapered sleeves. The skirt and neckline were trimmed with re-embroidered alencon lace. The double waistline train attached to the waistline was also trimmed in lace.

Her three tiered elbow length veil of French silk illusion was caught by a Swedish wedding crown. She carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations, pink sweetheart roses and ivy.

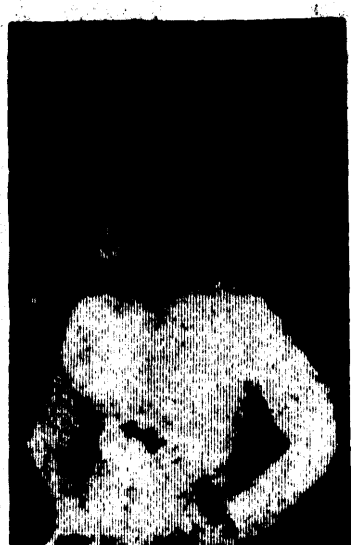

Maid of honor was Roberta Smith of Orchard Lake and bridesmaids were Barbara Taylor of Manistique and Mrs. David Lindstrom of Marquette.

In the role of junior bridesmaid was Miss Lisa Wuori of Marshall.

Bestman for his brother was Robert Salmi and groomsmen were John Hafeiman of Lena, Wis. and Steven Koernek of Detroit. Seating the guests were Philip Wuori, James Wuori, Toivo Aho and Gerald Salmi.

The mother of the bride chose a pine green dress of crepe and lace with beige accessories and a corsage of miniature tea roses. Mrs. Salmi wore a two piece blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink miniature roses and white carnations.

A wedding reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony and the couple will be honored at a reception in Rock on Sept. 3 at the Rock Lions Club from 5 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Allen F. Salmi

Following a wedding trip through the Eastern Upper Peninsula, the newlyweds will reside at 2307 Presque Isle Ave., Marquette.

The bride is a graduate of Baraga High School and is a junior at Northern Michigan University. She is affiliated with Delta Zeta Sorority. Mr. Salmi is a graduate of Rock High School and Northern Michigan University and is presently studying for his Master's degree. His fraternity is Alpha Phi Omega.

Marathon Has New Manager

GLADSTONE — Francis L. Tracy, supervisor of Marathon Oil Co.'s Gladstone Terminal, 302 Delta Ave., retired Aug. 31 after 18 years' service with the company.

Tracy, 65, became superintendent of the Gladstone Terminal in 1960, advancing to the position of terminal supervisor in 1962.

Robert T. Tracy, his son, has followed in his father's footsteps, currently serving as supervisor of Marathon's Mackinaw City Terminal. Tracy has two other children, daughters Colleen and Francis. He and his wife, Verda, make their home at 631 N. 14th St., Gladstone.

A retirement party honoring Mr. Tracy was held recently at the Sherman Hotel. Attending were a number of his Marathon associates including Ernest M. Vanderhoff of Rapid River, Frank J. Stropich of Escanaba and a group from Marathon's regional office in Detroit headed by Clarence E. Povolock, operations manager and H. W. Collins, wholesale sales manager.

Replacing Tracy as supervisor at the 160,000-barrel refined products terminal will be John P. Lagina, 40, a Marathon employee since 1956.

He has been employed as the utility man by the company for the past 10 years.

He and Mrs. Lagina have five sons, Joseph, Mike, Perry, Paul and Jack, attending Kipling and Gladstone schools. They reside at Kipling Rte. 1.

NMU Press Book On Willkie Gets Fine Reviews

MARQUETTE—A biography of the 1940 Republican presidential candidate written by a Northern Michigan University professor has been lauded by critics. The 611-page book, "Wendell Willkie: Fighter for Freedom," written by Dr. Ellsworth Barnard, professor of English at NMU, is being circulated nationally by the Northern Michigan University Press.

Dr. Barnard's work is based on interviews with many of Willkie's associates and members of his family and a search of previously untapped correspondence files, including letters from such figures as the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the late Sir Winston Churchill.

Detroit News editorial columnist Will Muller stated, "A generation which doesn't know that Wendell Willkie's last public argument was an indictment of injustices done the American Negro or that Willkie greatly influenced the Republican philosophy in the direction of human responsibility will be enlightened by this biography." Prof. Barnard writes smoothly and easily. His book is one that will be on the shelves of political scientists and scholars long after lesser books are forgotten.

Rail Brotherhood Reports Gains

CLEVELAND — A strong economic base supporting all phases of the union's operations is reflected in the 1965 financial report of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, says BRT President Charles Lima. The nation's largest operating railroad union serves a membership of 190,000 in the U. S. and Canada.

At the end of calendar 1965, the BRT had $2,194,871 in its general fund, an increase of about $300,000 over the comparable figure of 1964. BRT showed increase from $52 million to $54 million in total assets and from $130 to $137 million in the insurance on union members.

Clevenger Will Address Breakfast Group Saturday

Congressman Raymond Clevenger (D-Sault Ste. Marie) will campaign for re-election in Delta County Friday afternoon and Saturday, the Delta Democratic County Committee reported today.

A breakfast at 8:30 a. m. Saturday in Marco's Restaurant, Escanaba, will be addressed by Clevenger. It will be open to the public.

Jernstad Will Join Clevenger

Thomas F. Jernstad resigned today as Marquette County sheriff to accept a position as district representative of Congressman Raymond F. Clevenger (D-11th District). The resignation is effective Sept. 8.

Jernstad will remain in Marquette and manage Clevenger's district office in the Federal Building. He will have primary responsibility for coordinating congressional activities in the district.

Jernstad's successor as sheriff will be appointed by a three-man board composed of Probate Judge Michael F. DeFanti, Prosecuting Attorney Edward Quinell and County Clerk Roy C. Lee Jr.

Jernstad, 41, has been sheriff since July 1957. Prior to that, he was a member of the Marquette Police Department for 11 years, five of them as city detective.

A native of Negaunee, he has been a resident of Marquette since 1933.

He attended school in Marquette until 1942, when he enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps and served four years in the South Pacific.

He returned to Marquette in 1948 and was employed by the police department until recalled to active duty with the Marine Corps in the Korean War; resumed his career with the police department at the end of the War until appointed sheriff. He was elected sheriff four times since then, always by large majorities.

He is a member of St. Christopher's Church and served on the building committee for Bishop Baraga Central High School.

Olympic Star Is Mackinac's Dean

MACKINAC ISLAND — A two-time Olympic gold medalist, Richard Wailes of Seattle, has been appointed dean of students at Mackinac College, President S. Douglas Cornell announced.

The 30-year-old Yale graduate won gold medals at both the 1956 and 1960 Olympic Games, captained Yale's 1958 undefeated crew, went to Tokyo in 1964 as an advisor with the U. S. Olympic team and was one of Boeing's rising young aircraft engineers.

Wailes, said Dr. Cornell, "combines all-around qualities of leadership experience, academic distinction, and athletic ability that admirably qualify him for the dean of students position."

Born and reared in Seattle, Wailes graduated in 1954 from Edmonds High School where he was Student Body President and ranked third in his class. He was awarded the Ryerson Memorial Scholarship at Yale University and held it all four years. He rowed on the Yale eight that captured a Gold Medal in the 1956 Olympic Games at Melbourne. As a senior he captained the undefeated Yale Varsity crew of 1958. That year he also won the William Neely Mallory Award given annually "to that undergraduate of Yale University who on the field of play and in his life at Yale represents the highest ideals of American sportsmanship and Yale tradition."

Rounding out his record at Yale, Wailes was named President of the Undergraduate Athletic Affairs Council and chief aide to the Master of Pierson College. He was elected to the Wolfe Head Senior Society and served as a member of his Class Council.

Three Injured In Two Crashes

A motorbike rider, his passenger, and the driver of an automobile were injured in two traffic mishaps in Escanaba within the past 24 hours, it is reported by city police.

Raymond P. Bero, 17, of Gladstone, suffered deep gashes on his face and possible internal injuries when he was thrown from the motorbike into the rear window of an automobile. His condition is reported as fairly good at St. Francis Hospital today.

The accident occurred in the 600 block, N. 23rd St., at 5:03 p. m. Wednesday.

Robert Gustafson, 15, of Gladstone Rte. 1, a passenger on the bike, was thrown to the top of the car into which the motorbike crashed. He escaped with minor injuries.

Betty Jean Caron, 510 N. 20th St., waiting with signals on to make a left turn, saw the bike approaching from the rear but could not avoid the accident. Police said the two youths were looking backward waving to someone and did not see the car.

Frank A. Nowicki, 49, of Gastonia, was injured when his car struck an electric utility pole in the 1300 block, Sheridan Road, at 12:04 a. m. today. Police said he suffered cuts and abrasions of the left arm.

He received a traffic court summons for failing to exercise due care and caution.

3-State Group Asks Removal Of Mackinac Tolls

Citizen leaders from three states have gone on record favoring complete elimination of Mackinac Bridge tolls. Organized as the Northern Great Lakes Resource Development Committee with 21 members representing the northern areas of Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, the group gave unanimous endorsement to a resolution to eliminate the bridge tolls as a spur to development of the region.

Committee President Harold Dettman, motel owner of St. Ignace, stated: "It is a recognized fact that good roads and free movement of traffic over these roads is a key factor in the growth and development of any region, especially this one in which tourism is so important and commerce and industry are increasing."

The Northern Great Lakes Committee will meet Sept. 21-22 in Bemidji, Minn., to study development possibilities for dairy, potatoes and vegetables in the northern regions of the three states. Agricultural authorities will discuss current situations and lay out projects which can promote development of these enterprises.

Romney Seeks School Peace

By The Associated Press
Gov. George Romney, concerned about prospects of teachers failing to report for classes in some Michigan schools, planned to meet today with representatives of 11 school districts.

The governor called school officials and teacher spokesmen from the districts to the meeting to "discuss how we can avoid any interruption of the normal school year."

Those invited were from Detroit, Waterford, Trenton, Springfield, Traverse City, Grand Rapids, Adrian, Warren, Ferndale, White Pine and Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn.

Romney said the Michigan Labor Mediation Board named the 11 as the districts in which threats of teachers to refuse to work were most severe.

None of the 11 has completed contract agreements with teacher bargaining representatives.

In Detroit, the Board of Education reportedly approved a tentative agreement on salaries for the system's 10,000 teachers.

But Mrs. Mary Ellen Riordan, president of the Detroit Federation of Teachers, said "contract difficulties are not resolved." She declined to say in which areas the negotiators were in dispute.

William DeKeyers To Mark 50th Wedding Anniversary Sept. 3

Mr. and Mrs. William DeKeyser, 425 Dakota Ave., will observe their golden wedding anniversary with a 9 a. m. Mass at All Saints Catholic Church Saturday. A reception will be held at the Midway from 5 to 7:30 p. m. with Gro-leau's orchestra playing for the dance following.

The DeKeyers were married Oct. 10, 1916 in St. Mary's Church, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., by The Rev. Fr. John J. Stenglien. Attendants were Miss Minnie Pilote, now Mrs. Burt McDonald, of Washington, D. C., and Angelo Pilote, also of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. DeKeyser was born in Gladstone, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Stock, pioneer residents of Gladstone. Mr. DeKeyser was born in Green Bay, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John DeKeyser. The family came to Gladstone in 1911 and, except for two years spent in Sault Ste. Marie, have resided in Gladstone since that time.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Robert H. Murchie, 506 Dakota Ave., and four grandchildren, Jean, William, Patrick and Richard Murchie.

No formal invitations have been sent out but all neighbors, friends and relatives are invited to attend the observances.

Autoists To Log 450 Million Miles

LANSING (AP)—Labor Day weekend motorists will log an estimated 450 million miles in Michigan, the Highway Commission predicted Wednesday.

It said construction at two major highway locations may cause some delays.

Traffic on I 94 is limited to one lane in each direction at a bridge repair project near Jackson. Traffic is partially restricted at U.S. 127 at the north edge of Mason.

Navy Is Sending R. L. Webster To California College

AT-1 Richard L. Webster, U. S. N., will attend Mount San Antonio College, Walnut, Calif., for two years beginning in September. Webster is one of 75 navy career men who have been nominated and accepted into the navy's new Associate Degree program.

Men accepted into the program will be attending Palomar College, in San Marcos, Calif., Wentworth Institute, Boston, Mass., or Mount San Antonio College.

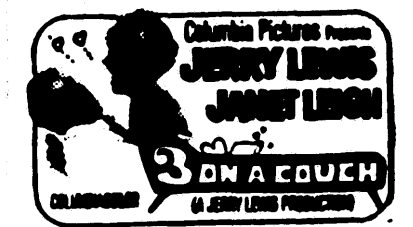

Webster, who had re-enlisted in the Navy in Sanford, Fla. in June after serving seven years, is the husband of the former Marilyn Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peterson, of Kipling. He and his wife and son, Rick, are living in Walnut. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Webster, of Holliston, Mass.

Lewis of Gladstone fashion is our specialty

where would we be without them?

We wouldn't be America's largest food retailer

That's for sure.

We're talking about the clerks who still manage a smile and a "Thank You" late Saturday afternoon after a busy week's work—and even on days when they aren't feeling tip-top.

We're talking about our supervisors, store managers, department heads and their assistants who shape the backbone of A&P.

Those behind the scenes, too—literally scores of thousands of devoted employees in our offices, warehouses, and other facilities.

Without all these fine people, there wouldn't be an A&P—and we know it.

They work hard...we're proud of them. Like most of us, most of them will rest too...on Labor Day.

The Kingsford Flivvers, defending champs in the Great Northern Conference, have 12 lettermen back from the squad that produced an 8-1 overall record last fall. . . . Heading the list of veterans is fullback Chris Alberti, 6 foot and 205 pounds, an all-U.P. choice last year. . . . The Flivvs will be coached this season by Rex Terwilliger, former Northern Michigan University halfback who succeeds Rue Drake, now an assistant on Coach Rollie Dotsch's staff at Northern.

Marquette, the comeback team in Upper Peninsula football circles last fall, has 14 returning lettermen set for action this season. . . . Coach Jerry Pangrazzi's Redmen lost their first five starts last season, including a 29-0 licking at the hands of the Escanaba Eskimos. . . . Then they reversed themselves completely and ran off three straight victories over Ishpeming, Manistique and Sault Ste. Marie to finish in second place in the final Great Lakes Conference standings.

Coach Bill Earle's Munising Mustangs, who won the GLC championship with a 4-1 record in 1965, are only 24 players deep this year but half of them are lettermen. . . . Munising will be playing on a new field this year, renovated last season when games were shifted to a site at the Munising airport. . . . Earle's returning lettermen include Daryl Cox, Steve Cromwell, Bob Cornish, Ray Kinnunen, Mike McNally, Steve Seglund, Dan Kriekard, Ed Graves, John Raica, Bob Fromm, Alf Moros and Tom Gatiss.

Woody's Bar of Ishpeming will carry a 50-4 record into the state Class A softball tournament which will be played over the Labor Day weekend at Niles. . . . This will be Woody's second straight trip to the state finals. . . . Other U.P. teams competing in state tournament action this weekend will be Chatham V&B Bar in Class C and Marquette Northwoods Supper Club in Class B.

Bob Ellis of Houghton captured the Portage Lake Golf Club men's championship tournament by edging Ross Johnson of Hubbell 1 up in 18 holes in the finals. . . . Ellis eliminated defending champion Pete Lenz of Houghton in a first round match.

Louise DeHaas of Marquette became the first woman to shoot a hole in one at the Marquette Country Club this season when she canned her tee shot on the 110 yard No. 3 hole while golfing with Marion Cory and Mary Putters. . . . Bob Snider joined the ranks of the hole in one shooters at Sault Ste. Marie this week with an ace on the No. 9 hole at the Sault Country Club. . . . He was golfing with Bob Piche of Soo and Bill Deuman of Pontiac. . . . At Pine Grove Country Club in Iron Mountain, pro Dick Stillin set a course record with a 34-35-49, one under the best previous score shared by Art Anderson and Tom Jensen.

Merchants Post Second Victory In City Action

Wednesday Results
Merchants 9, Bero Motors 3
Mead 16, LaFave's 11
All Stars 7, Teamsters 0 (forfeit)

Games Tonight
6—All Stars vs. LaFave's
7:30—Flat Rock vs. Bero's
9—Mead vs. Michigan Hotel

The Merchants and Bero Motors battled to a 2-2 deadlock through five and a half innings at Memorial Field Wednesday.

BANQUET SET
The annual Escanaba Softball Association banquet will be held Thursday, Sept. 8, at the P&H Rod and Gun Clubhouse located near the Danforth Ski Hill. Refreshments will be served at 6 and dinner at 7. Team managers are asked to contact Clarence Konas on the number of their players who will attend.

night before the regular season champs exploded for a 9-3 victory in the American division of the City softball tournament.

In the National division Mead fashioned its second straight victory by outslugging LaFave's 16-11, and the All Stars won a forfeit from Teamsters.

The Merchants opened scoring against Bero's in the second inning when Bob Coriveau was hit by a pitch and moved around on two errors. They made it 2-0 in the fifth as Don Martineau doubled home Wally Flath.

Bero's bounced back in the sixth when John Laundre stroked a double with two mates aboard to knot the score at 2-2.

In the last of the sixth the Merchants erupted with six hits for seven runs, with 13 men coming to bat, knocking Dale Blinzer from the box with Carl Eastman coming on in relief.

Bill McGovern went the distance for the Merchants mound decision.

Action continues tonight with Flat Rock meeting Bero's in the sudden death elimination game in the American division. Unbeaten Mead and Michigan Hotel clash in the nightcap while the All-Stars face LaFave's in the opener, the loser being dumped from the tournament.

Rubick At The Reins

'New' Emeralds Set For Football Opener

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique Emeralds will open a new football season with new faces at all positions under a new coach when they entertain Ishpeming in a Great Lakes Conference Friday night at 8:30. . . . At the Green and White helm will be Ron Rubick, an all-time football great at Manistique who earned three letters at Michigan State as a mercurial halfback. Rubick joined the coaching ranks in impressive fashion last fall when he guided St. Ignace to an undefeated season.

Rubick succeeds Dick Bonifas who resigned to head the Manistique Community-School program and serve as the school's athletic director, succeeding William Cook who retired last spring.

Rounding out the Manistique coaching staff are Richard Larson, Glenn Bignall, Rudi Brandstrom, Howard Schwartz and Seb Rubick on the varsity and junior varsity levels.

The entire starting lineup from last year's squad that posted a 4-4 record was lost through graduation. Among the departed regulars were Jon Cameron, Harold Toennesson, Norman Saffer, Dave Beaudry, Ed Leonard, Paul Klarich, Tom Brawley, Doug Nelson, Jerry Belleville, Sam Burns, Dennis White, Greg Soukup and Larry DeRousha.

Rubick has 10 lettermen as the nucleus for this year's squad. Back in action are seniors Dave Barton, Dan Char-tier, Leonard Courneys, Mike Creeden, Jim Hoholik and Bill McKilligan and juniors Dave Carlson, Bob Cowman, Terry Popour and Gary Sample.

The new Emerald mentor today named six of his returning lettermen to starting positions in the opener against Ishpeming.

The Manistique season schedule:

Sept. 2—Ishpeming here
Sept. 9—Soo there
Sept. 16—Munising here
Sept. 24—Negaunee there
Oct. 1—Gladstone there
Oct. 7—Holy Name here
Oct. 14—Newberry there
Oct. 21—Marquette here
Oct. 28—Rudyard here

Vicky Beck Is Lowest Golfer

Vicky Beck paced the golfers in the women's Wednesday night league at the Highland Golf Club with a crisp round of 44. Gladys Hansen also scored well as she turned in a round of 46.

The Birdie Babes carry a commanding 7½ point lead into the final week of play, and the second place Golf Bags appear firmly entrenched in that position with a 6-point advantage. However, the 19th Holes carry a scant ½-point edge over the Swingers for third place, and there are several other teams in striking distance.

Winners of last night's events were Gladys Hansen, Lorraine Daley, Nancy Robinette, Helen McCarthy and Bernice Flath.

Team standings: Birdie Babes 64, Golf Bags 56½, 19th Holes 49½, Swingers 49, Pretty Putters 48, Fairways Fairest 44, Tee Shes 43, Highland Lassies 42, Boney Beauties and Milk Maids 40.

Pirates, Giants Tied For First In NL Scramble

By The Associated Press
Pittsburgh's fans fanned the Pirates past the Los Angeles Dodgers, but Juan Marichal enjoyed anything but a breeze against the New York Mets.

Some 1,000 spectators were on hand with their paper fans Wednesday night as the Pirates edged the Dodgers 4-3 while Marichal sweated out his 20th victory as San Francisco nipped the Mets 2-1.

The results left the Pirates and Giants tied for first place in the National League with the third-place Dodgers falling three games back.

The fans who came to watch the Pirates play received free fans as they entered the park. They put them to use in the fourth inning after Roberto Clemente reached first base on Jim Lefebvre's error.

When everyone in the stands started waving the fans, the Dodgers complained to the umpires. And while the umpires waited for the breeze to stop, the game was delayed for five minutes.

Once it resumed, White Star singled off Don Drysdale,

Cvengros Names Veterans To Start In First Clash

Coach Jerry Cvengros today named an all-letterman starting lineup for the Escanaba High School 1966 season football opener at Antigo Friday night. Kickoff is 8, Escanaba time.

The Eskimos will have experience at every position in the starting lineup, although most of the players were not regulars last season.

Cvengros will go with senior Jim Boyle at the quarterback slot. Boyle got off to an impressive start as a junior last year but suffered a broken ankle in the second game of the campaign and was sidelined the remainder of the season.

Joining Boyle in the backfield will be Bob Irish and Bill Bellefeuille who saw limited action last year, and fullback Dan Scheuren.

At the ends will be Paul Miller and Bernie Larson with Bob Myrvall and Dave Nyquist at tackle, Marty Oslund and Bruce Craig at guards, Charles Bomaster at center.

Boyle and Oslund were elected co-captains for the season by their mates this week.

Dan Mylander, a sophomore, and junior Gerry Brazeau are ticketed for early action in the backfield and Tom Boyle and Jerry Cole are the No. 1 replacements at the flankers.

Mylander, Tom Boyle and Butch LaBay are starters on defense.

Jets Will Face Boston Tonight

By The Associated Press
The New York Jets, minus quarterback Joe Namath, and the Boston Patriots close the American Football League exhibition schedule tonight before six other AFL teams start play for real Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Baltimore, going after its 12th straight pre-season victory, ends its exhibition schedule tonight at Detroit as the National Football League begins its final round of exhibitions.

Namath, who returned to practice only this week after missing all but one quarter of the exhibition season with a knee injury, will be on the sidelines as the Jets meet the Patriots in Mobile, Ala. Mike Taliaferro, who has directed the Jets to a 3-0 pre-season log, will call the signals.

The new Miami Dolphins open the AFL season Friday night against Western Division contender Oakland at Miami. Denver will be at Houston Saturday night and last year's championship game opponents, San Diego and Buffalo, will play on the West Coast in a nationally televised game (NBC Sunday).

The rest of the NFL schedule has Minnesota at Dallas and St. Louis at Chicago Friday night and Cleveland meeting Pittsburgh at Birmingham, Ala., Philadelphia at Washington, San Francisco at Los Angeles and Green Bay playing New York at Milwaukee Saturday night.

LeMire Leads Women Golfers

Rosemary LeMire tamed the Escanaba Country Club course with a sharp 43 to lead the women's league matches Wednesday.

Other low golfers were Lou Berglund and Milly Boyce with 45, Salley Fontaine and Marilyn Knoll 46, Doris Swanson 47, Gloria Hansley 48 and Rita Sauters, Chris Barron and Peg Douglas 50.

Winners in their divisions were Marilyn Knoll with a net 31, Karen Tochterman with a net 29, Rosemary Sankovitch with a net 22 and Leslie Sandefur with a net 35.

Lost to the Eskimo squad for the season with injuries that required hospitalization were Bruce Baumer and Mike Miller.

Antigo represents a new opponent for Escanaba. The Red Robins are coached by Scott Field and have compiled an excellent Wisconsin prep record in recent years, winning 18 while losing 4 and drawing 1 in the last three years.

Antigo has 10 returning lettermen from the team that won six and lost two last season. Three of the veterans were regulars.

Big man among the returnees is fullback Dennis Preboski, a senior, who set a modern day rushing record at Antigo last fall with 1,180 yards in eight games, scoring 34 points.

Other returning regulars are end Fred LeVeque and tackle Tim Brandt, both juniors. Other lettermen are Mel Laycock, Tim O'Brien, Jim Honzik, John Frey, Jim Boetsher, Mike Aird and John Hiller, all seniors.

Antigo lost its first two games last season then won six straight, including a 20-13 victory over Marinette, a team that defeated Escanaba, 27-7.

Martin Defends Highland Title

The Highland men's championship tournament will get underway on Saturday with a field of 87 players, composing 11 flights.

Defending champion Jerry Martin will be on hand to defend his title. Martin bested Gerry Harris in the 1965 tournament.

The event will feature a shotgun start each day, with tee time noon Saturday, 9 a. m. Sunday and Monday, with the two finalists in the championship flight playing their final 18 holes Monday afternoon.

Pairings and tee positions for each flight as follows:

Gladstone Golf
GLADSTONE—Defending champion Pete Peterson was extended to the 20th hole by Joe Hutch in an opening round match in the championship flight of the Gladstone Golf Club men's tournament this week.

In another rugged battle Gene Harris nipped Dennis Coulter on the 19th hole. Harris was runnerup to Peterson in the tournament last year.

Bill Wood also had his hands full, downing Jim Damitz on the 19th hole. J. C. Miller won his match over Gus Boydston.

Rounding out the championship flight are Phil LeGault, Fran Peterson, Harry Schoch, Jim Sundalius, Dean Roddy, Frank Bartol, Clifford DeVore and Dave Nivison.

The tournament will be concluded over the Labor Day weekend. Matches will begin Saturday at 1. Times are posted at the clubhouse and must be honored unless pre-arranged with opponents. Sunday's matches will start at 10 a. m. and Monday's at 9 a. m. The championship match Monday will get under way at 2.

Prep Football Teams Open This Weekend

Eskymos To Travel; Holy Name, Gladstone, Manistique At Home

Upper Peninsula high school football coaches take the wraps of their prep gridders this weekend with a full slate of 18 contests Friday and Saturday. The eight week campaign gets under way Friday night with a rash of conference and non-league battles.

Escanaba makes its first appearance against a brand new foe, traveling to Antigo for an exhibition tilt against the Red Robins who have ranked high in Wisconsin prep circles in recent years. Game time is 8.

The Manistique Emeralds, with Ron Rubick at the helm for the first time, take on Ishpeming Friday night in a home stand starting at 8:30.

The Gladstone Braves kick off their campaign before the home fans Saturday afternoon with a non-conference game against the Gwinn Model Towners.

Holy Name, also performing under a new coach in Tom O'Neil, will face Iron Mountain Saturday in a Great Northern Conference contest at the Escanaba Athletic Field. The kickoff will be at 2.

Defending Upper Peninsula champion is Crystal Falls, winner of eight straight games and the Copper Country Conference championship last season. The Trojans open defense of their Floyd Barber Trophy with a Friday night game at Houghton.

Kingsford, champion of the Great Northern Conference pennant, steps outside the league to host Marquette of the Great Lakes Friday night.

Stephenson's Eagles, with new coach John LaPointe making his debut, also plays outside the Great Northern this weekend, traveling to Marinette Catholic Central Saturday night.

Walcutt, Menda And Safford On State 4-H Trips

EAST LANSING—The 4-H State Show is over, but more recognition is in store for 50 top 4-H'ers, who received honors at the 31st annual event, held Aug. 23-26 at Michigan State University.

Educational trips to Chicago and northern Michigan have been awarded to 4-H members who gave winning demonstrations. Members 16 and over will make the trip to Chicago, younger 4-H'ers will tour the Traverse City area.

Demonstration winners must display both a thorough knowledge of subject matter, but are also scored on poise, confidence and public speaking ability.

Chicago award trip winners include:

Sally Elizabeth Walcutt, 16, and Marie Menda, 16, both of Daggett, Menominee county; landscaping.

The group visiting Chicago left Tuesday and will return Sept. 3. The 4-H'ers will visit business, industry and transportation centers in the city. They will also get a glimpse of urban living and take a first hand look at problems in metropolitan centers with a stop at the Purdue University Urban Development Center in Hammond, Indiana.

Junior demonstration winners who will take the educational trip to Traverse City this week include:

Don Safford, 14, Eusign, Delta county; Entomology.

The tour to Traverse City will be Sept. 30-Oct. 4. The 4-H members will take a look at the economic life of a community and learn about careers, cultural life, business opportunities and educational developments.

Special Mixer
DETROIT (AP) — A special mixer-server for martinis and Manhattan cocktails allows the host to "dial" the strength of the drinks. A ratio ranging from 2-1 to 9-1 of strong liquor to vermouth may be set on the dial. This is accomplished through a novel arrangement of plastic container, one inside the other, permitting simultaneous pouring of two ingredients through the same spout. Called the "Bon Vivant," this gadget is available from IMI Products, Detroit.

Smokey Says:

Townsend Asks Inflation Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lynn A. Townsend, who has a major voice in determining Chrysler's car prices and wage policies, has urged a united front to combat inflation in the nation's economy.

"I hope labor, business and the government will act with restraint in the present economic situation," the Chrysler president said in an interview.

Townsend, 47, first of the auto industry's top executives to make a prediction on next year's car sales, said, "There are offsetting factors but I think 1967 has potential of being as good as 1966. We are not projecting any falloff for 1967."

He had said earlier that 1966 car sales, including imports, probably would reach 9.1 million vehicles, about 200,000 behind last year.

Assessing the auto market, the head of the nation's third largest auto company said, "1966 was a damn fine automotive year and the car market has much underlined strength."

He stuck to his prediction sales will touch 10.5 million cars a year by 1970 and 13 million by 1975.

The Chrysler president declined to be specific about what he thought would happen to 1967 auto prices and next year's wage talks.

ELECTRIC HEATING RATE REDUCED

Effective
September 1, 1966

HEATING COST REDUCED 9%
For Total-Electric Residential Customers

We are pleased to announce that a new reduced electric heating rate has been approved and is effective September 1, 1966.

Our space heating rate is reduced from 1.75 cents per kwh. to 1.5 cents per kwh. and represents an annual saving of approximately 9 per cent.

This reduction is made possible by the overwhelming acceptance of electric heating throughout UPPCO's eleven county service area — and is another indication of our effort, and of our Electric Dealers, to bring to our customers the best service possible at the lowest cost.
